

NEW SHOOTS FROM THE ROOTS

ANCIENT INDO-EUROPEAN LANGUAGES IN CONTEXT

Dept. of Nordic Studies and Linguistics · University of Copenhagen · 2–3 June 2022

THURSDAY 2 JUNE 2022

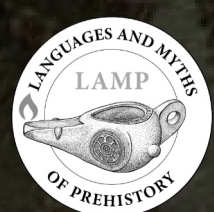

ROOM 4A.O.56

- 14:00–14:15 WELCOME
- 14:15–14:45 Mikkel Nørtoft: Questions on funerary feasts and life stages in the Corded Ware Culture and Indo-European societies
- 14:45–15:15 Thomas Olander: West, east, home is best? The phylogenetic relationship between Balto-Slavic and Indo-Iranian
- 15:15–15:30 COFFEE BREAK
- 15:30–16:00 Rasmus Bjørn: News on old mummies: Bronze Age genetics, archaeology, and language in the Tarim Basin
- 16:00–16:30 Louise Skydsbjerg Friis: ñare sarkimpa: Inherited textile terminology in Tocharian
-

FRIDAY 3 JUNE 2022

ROOM 4A.O.56

- 10:00–10:30 Simon Poulsen: Borrowing in phylogenetics
- 10:30–11:00 Matthew Scarborough: Ἄνδρά μοι ἔννεπε, Μοῦσα, καὶ ἀργυρέας ἀσάμινθους: Trying to make sense of the substrate vocabulary in the Ancient Greek lexicon
- 11:00–11:15 COFFEE BREAK
- 11:15–11:45 Johan Ulrik Nielsen: “I expect a wolf where I see its ears”: Tracing the origin of Old Norse ylgr ‘she-wolf’ and merr ‘mare’ and their Germanic cognates
- 11:45–12:15 Birgit Anette Olsen: Wolf packs and lone wolves in and beyond Indo-European societies
- 12:15–13:00 LUNCH BREAK
- 13:00–13:30 Corinna Scheungraber: The virtues of Germanic heroes and monsters: semantic categories and etymological remarks on their epithets
- 13:30–14:00 Riccardo Ginevra: Indo-European gods of safe and successful mobility: Old Norse Njǫrðr, Vedic Sanskrit Nāsatya-, and PIE nes-* ‘return (safely home), arrive (at the desired goal)’
- 14:00–14:30 COFFEE BREAK
- 14:30–15:00 Julia Sturm: The wind in Indo-European
- 15:00–15:30 Adam Hyllested: The Indo-European origins of Persephone and the Albanian goddess Premtë
-

Organised by LAMP
and Connecting the Dots